DAY-OF & DISCUSSION TOPICS

Join us for a discussion on cover cropping in orchards. See a seeder in action and learn about all steps to planting a cover crop - choosing beneficial species, keys to calibration, seeding and more!

At the olive orchard, California Olive Ranch planted cover crops in December 2020 and October 2021 on approximately half of the field's acreage. Chico State's Center for Regenerative Agriculture and Resilient Systems will monitor the impact of the cover crops to soil health over three years.

The discussion will also include funding opportunities available to growers through CDFA's Healthy Soils Program.

DIRECTIONS

From Willows travel north on I5 approx. 7 miles, take exit 610 towards Artois and turn left (west) on County Road 33 and follow for 2.5 miles, turn left (south) on Road D and follow for almost 1 mile until you reach Road 35 where you will turn right (west) and follow Road 35 for 2 miles. The olive orchard is just past the cattle gates on the right.
